--U.S. Democratic Party Platform on the War on Terrorism Since Donald Trump was elected President, he has appointed various government executives who are ardent supporters of military rule. In the last year, they have taken over several government organizations, such as the National Defense University, the CIA and the Department of Homeland Security. During the inauguration, he has gone so far as to declare that he is appointing a Director of National Intelligence to oversee an investigation into the Islamic State. His decision was widely criticized by the American people. But, in an increasingly diverse country filled with numerous foreign actors, he has also chosen some of our best citizens: our military families.. The Beatles did perform at the event, hosted by NBC News and the Associated Press, but it was the New York version by the band that garnered the most attention and coverage.
